Dental Hygiene – New Challenges

WELCOME WORDS

Dear Friends and Colleagues around the globe!

The organisation committee is working hard to prepare a superb and multifaceted scientific programme with leading international speakers in the field of Oral Hygiene and Periodontology. We are also keeping in mind that an interdisciplinary team approach allows for improving the oral health and well-being of our patients for a lifetime and have incorporated those aspects in our programme as well.

The latest evidence based scientific developments in our field will be presented as well as a practical approach for implementing these findings.

The scientific programme has been designed to appeal to dental hygienists, specialists and other health care providers to encourage them to take on new challenges, help gain new perspectives and develop new approaches in the field of Dental Hygiene.

In addition we want to hear what you have to say and allow you to share your experiences – so please submit your abstracts for the free oral and poster sessions, no later than September 1, 2015.

We also have great social events lined up, giving you the chance to meet other dental hygiene colleagues and friends from around the globe and to enjoy some lovely hours together.

We hope you will also reserve some time to explore the wonderful city of Basel and the amazing landscapes of our small country. There are so many sights to see, things to do and places to go.

Save the dates, keep track of updates on our website, submit your abstracts and don't forget to register on time!

It will be a great honour and privilege to welcome you all to Basel in June 2016.
